Today is the day..... FIRE the

Today, July 28th, 2009, at 6:19 pm (EST) millions of people all over the planet will be joining together with one common purpose.

FIRE the GRID

<http://www.firethegrid.com/eng09/FTGII.htm>

Today, humanity unites, once again for one hour of time. We will sit in contemplation of the world THAT WILL BE. This is an hour of earthly creation with the highest degree of pure intention. Use meditation, prayer, thought, music or intention - any tool of your choosing to manifest the world we so desire into being. Imagine millions of humans sitting, taking a stand for something better; a world of equality of balance of harmony and joy. We will gather for one hour and hold the vision of a world fed, a world of abundance for all, a world of joyful experiences. This world holds pure potential for all humans.

With this in mind, set about seeing in your mind what that world looks like, see green fields, beautiful clear rivers and clean air. Now see abundance for everyone, see people smiling, happy, well fed, well cared for. See humans sharing and cooperating. What does that look like you ask? Simply imagine it. Really see it in your mind. The imagination is the paintbrush of our creations. See it here during this very special energy time. See it here and dream it into being. We will collectively see it and dream it into being. Remember you are not alone, there are millions of us intending this new world into place.

Now put details into your dream, see all of the beauty you desire. Add color and delight. The more detailed your dream, the more tangible we make our intention. See the people of the world living in harmony not only with each other but with the planet itself. See engineering taking a turn to work with nature for the betterment of both all humanity and the earth itself, working together for the betterment of all. People all sharing in a plan to challenge the old ideas and incorporate new, better, healthier ideas. The winds of change can be directed and this is our opportunity to consciously choose that direction. It is the time of a great gathering, a uniting of minds to create a better way, a way without exclusion. We can change the world. It begins with our hearts and minds.

If the key component to the first FTG was joy and gratitude, then the main components to attend to during the second phase are to be present and accountable for who you are and your unique role in the cosmos. Visualize peace and abundance for all. This is the time we see the world we choose to live in. See it in all its splendour; you must see even that which you could not believe to be true. Imagine in your mind a community sharing and caring for all. Imagine a world of plenty using systems that work with our earth for a sustainable coexistence with humanity. See peoples' needs and desires met in a loving, peaceful manner cooperating in all so that we all will benefit. See it! What does it look like? See the people in your life living in harmony. See the children of the world in comfort and delight choosing just like us. A cooperative planet sharing the journey seeing to needs of all including our great mother earth. There is a new race of children ready to change the world from within. They will be the leaders of this movement, we are just clearing a path so they may see a better way.

FIRE THE GRID IS A MOVEMENT FOR CHANGE, and it comes from a place of love and integrity. It demonstrates how many we are and that there is great strength in numbers. It brings a united front for those who know that we can make a difference in this world. True change begins with each individual becoming accountable, not only for what is happening now but what will happen in the future. Embrace the "I am" and we will create the "We can" to follow through with the highest intention to create a better world. Remember who you truly are as an individual: a Divine piece of our Creator. And when you align with others, you become part of a collective of very powerful creators.

There are many changes coming for this world. The energy we hold as a collective unit will influence the outcome of those changes, but before we manifest more for ourselves we must put time and energy into manifesting a healthy planet and a healthy people so that there will be something here to enjoy in our future. When you're in joy, you create high vibration. When you create high vibration, we create a high vibration in the world. Know that you can influence this time and space and then do so. Put forward your best foot, lay the plan of your intention then tend your garden. There are many projects where we can tend our garden. They will show themselves. It is up to each individual to find the way to incorporate living with purity of intention everyday.

To summarize, what we will do on July 28, 2009 at 19:19 Rio di Janeiro time - 18:19 (6:19 PM) in your time zone - is unite as one, sharing our purest intention to create a new world. As each of us as individuals see the earth in its true potential, collectively we will begin to create a world with untold possibilities. Hold that intention for an hour. During that time, the energy stored in the crystal beds under Brazil will be released and we will allow that energy to pass through us on its way back to Source.
